

Jon and his family in Moab

Hello-

My name is Jon Tarkington and I've been floating around the Colorado racing community for roughly 30 years. A few highlights:

- BRAC Junior Team 1993 (or 94?)
- CU Cycling Team 95-99
- ACA/BRAC Board of Directors 2004-2008
- BRAC Executive Director 2009-2011
- RMCCC Board of Directors 2017-present

A few work related highlights:

- Started the first ever Durango Cyclocross Series – 1999
- Teton Consulting- Coaching and Event consulting – 2001 to present
 - Numerous National Champions, Including USPRO Road Champion 2012
 - Contractor For Medalist Sports 2016-2018
 - Various Roles with CO Classic 2017-2019

I'm lucky to have been able to watch and be a part of BRAC from a young age. The organization has had its challenges historically and the current state of affairs is no exception. I've watched cycling change significantly over the years but nothing has been as shocking as the changes in road cycling over the past 5 years. The business of cycling in the US is changing very rapidly and with those changes are tests of organizations like USAC and BRAC. It is my hope that my experience and perspective on the sport at multiple levels will be valuable to the organization as the racing community continues to navigate a changing landscape.
